What is excel HR?

excel HR is a premium laser specifically designed to permanently remove unwanted hair on the face and body. excel HR is for women and men of all skin types—even those with tanned skin.

Why is excel HR different from other laser hair removal technologies?

excel HR's signature truPulse™ technology delivers consistent and sustained energy with each pulse, providing efficient, effective hair removal treatments. Unlike older technologies that use low-powered energy sources or non-optimal laser wavelengths, excel HR uses the ideal wavelengths and technology to achieve the safest, most effective results for patients of all skin types.

How many treatments will I need?

The total number of treatments varies based on the area treated. Typically, 4-5 treatments spaced 6-8 weeks apart are recommended.

Why are multiple treatments required?

Laser hair removal requires multiple treatments because hair grows in different phases. It's necessary to repeat the treatments at the intervals recommended by your provider to achieve the best results. Missing a treatment could mean missing the optimal stage of hair growth for removal, thereby increasing the number of treatments required.

What areas can be treated?

Due to excel HR's superior technology and treatment safety, results are achievable on all skin and hair types—dark or light, fine or coarse. Commonly treated areas include underarms, legs, bikini area, and men's chest and back. excel HR can also be used to remove unwanted hair on the face.

What does it feel like?

Most patients report that laser hair removal feels like a rubber band lightly snapping the skin. To increase patient comfort and safety, excel HR offers continuous cooling before, during and after each pulse. In a comparative study, 100% of patients found the excel HR to be more comfortable than a competitors' laser hair removal procedure.¹

What can I expect after treatment?

Following your excel HR treatment you should apply sun screen to the treated area and refrain from excessive sun exposure. Your provider will discuss additional post-interment care during your consultation.
